Research Competence

Handling Large Data Sets

Used the 1972-1978 merged data set of the General Social Surveys (GSS) data for doctoral research. These data were collected by the National Opinion Research Center (NORC), University of Chicago, for the National Data Program for the Social Sciences. The cumulative data was made available by the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research.

Primary Data Processing and Data Analysis

During 1981-1988, I directed numerous research projects. This data was processed by using the computer facilities of the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, and the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff.

Since 1983, the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff obtained the facilities of SPSS-11 and SPSSx. Since then, I established over one hundred system files containing various types of data. These studies and data came from several academic disciplines. These studies and data came from several academic disciplines. These academic areas include: Business and Economics, Teacher Education, Marketing, Customer Analysis, Gerontology, and Sociology.

Business and Marketing Research. In cooperation with Dr. Mirza Shahjahan, Professor of Business and Economics, we conducted a socioeconomic study of the Pine Bluff area. This study was based on a probability sample of Pine Bluff, Arkansas. A system file was developed to process this data, at UAPB's Computer Center. I directed a similar research project in Central Arkansas and developed a system file at UAPB to process that data.
